HARDING FACES
ANOTHER TEST OF INFLUENCE

Hold Over Former Senate
Colleagues to be

STATES POSITION

Insists That Body Recess
Until Ready to Tackle Tariff.

Washington, July 8.—President Harding faces today a severe test of his official and personal influence with his former colleagues of the senate.

The extent of that influence may be determined by the result of his insistence that the senate recess or adjourn until it is ready to tackle tariff and tax legislation.

While he may have fulfilled his expressed desire to have the soldiers' bonus bill sidetracked until tariff and tax revision is accomplished, he and the Republican leaders of the senate are threatened with serious opposition from Republican senators who only on Tuesday voted down Senator Lodge's proposal for a four week adjournment.

Senators Kenyon, Iowa; Norris, Nebraska and Capper, Kansas, all Republicans, declare they will fight to a standstill the president's own proposal for an adjournment. They are among the leaders of the senatorial "agricultural bloc" whose members are demanding that the senate not act until it has acted upon pending agricultural legislation. A number of Democratic senators identified with the "bloc" are also lined up against an adjournment.

Even some of the Republican senators closely associated with the president and usually eager to comply with his wishes, deprecated today the president's action in visiting the capitol in an effort to whip into line the Republican majority of the senate. They admit he failed signally to secure the "unanimous consent" of Republican senators for an adjournment however, successful he was in persuading them that the soldiers' bonus bill ought to be re-committed to the senate finance committee, whence it came and action on it deferred until after the country's tax problems have been solved.

YOUTHFUL BANDITS

ROBBING A BANK

Six Boys Make Escape in Stolen Yacht on Lake Erie.

Cleveland, July 8.—The hunt for six youthful bandits who robbed the Marine National Bank at Ashtabula of $7,000 and escaped in a stolen yacht on which they sped into Lake Erie, was resumed today. The yacht, the property of Howard Staley, vice commodore of the Cleveland yacht club, was held by the daring bandits and police of all Cleveland and American coast towns were notified.

Two airplanes and police in launches failed to find a trace of the bandits after they had boarded the yacht.

The robbers staged their hold up in the presence of hundreds and when fleeing in a stolen auto to the lake shore fired shots, wounding two persons.

The accident occurred at the Hartman home in Grandview, a local suburb, when Mrs. Hartman started a fire in the cook stove, using coal oil.

Mrs. Hartman has been unconscious since the tragedy. The babe, fastened in a chair, was badly blistered by flames which leaped through a kitchen window onto a rear porch.

Mrs. Beck was burned while trying to tear the burning clothing off her sister.

Seat of Irish Violence
Now Shifts Into Ulster

Many Casualties Reported in Battles, Friday, in Province—Woman killed in Belfast District By Forces

Belfast, July 8.—The seat of Irish violence has apparently been shifted from the south into Ulster province and many casualties were reported today in battles.

Firing broke out in the Belfast district while crown forces were searching for arms and a woman was killed and a constable wounded.

It was rumored that a number of Sinn Feiners were killed and their bodies removed secretly. A constable was shot to death upon in the Millfield district. One was wounded.

A constable was shot to death at Ballinacree.

A constable who was wounded in fighting on Wednesday, died today.

Democratic House Leaders
Fight Fordney Tariff Bill

Will Oppose Tariff Revision With View of Making All Possible Political Capital for Their Party—Republicans Say They are Not Worried.

Washington, July 8.—Democratic leaders in the house came squarely into the open today in their fight on tariff revision and they plan to make all possible political capital for their party.

The decision of the house Democratic conference last night to vote solidly against the Fordney tariff bill gave the leaders the united backing they sought.

While they intend making no move that will delay, unduly, action on the bill, every opportunity will be seized or created to point out and accentuate the high duties carried by the bill and advantages offered by special "interests" and big business.

Rep. Fordney, sponsor for the bill and other Republican leaders say they are not worried over the Democratic plan of attack. They smiled today over the vigorous charges of Rep. Garner, Texas, that the bill had been drawn with consideration of the pocketbooks of the captains of industry who have contributed to the Republican campaign fund.

"Nearly all business men of sagacity and vision, desire the return to power of the Republican party," the way in which Fordney turned aside the Garnet shaft. The Republicans however are alive to the possible effect of the political fight to be made by the house Democrats within the limited time allowed them for assaults on the tariff bill.

SUICIDE PACT IS FATAL TO SON BUT
MOTHER MAY LIVE

Duchess DeGuise, Well
Known in Paris Night
Life, Recovering

Paris, July 8.—Madame DeGuise-Hite or Duchess DeGuise, as she is sometimes known, is well known resident of the American colony who attempted to end her life in a suicide pact with her 24 year old son, George Harborough, was not told today that her son's efforts at self destruction had been successful and that he had died in the American Hospital at Neuilly last night.

Physicians said that Madame DeGuise-Hite would unquestionably recover if news of her son's death were kept from her. The attendants are keeping close watch upon the woman for fear that she will learn in some way of her son's death and make a new effort at suicide.

"How is George getting along?" is the woman's constant question. The invariable reply has been "he is getting well."

"If George dies, I am going to die too," Madame DeGuise-Hite told the doctors. "If he dies and I get well I will commit suicide at the first opportunity. We are pledged to go together."

No word had been received from the dead boy's father, G. E. Harborough, formerly of Cleveland but now of El Cajon, Cal. He is a millionaire.

Madame DeGuise-Hite was divorced from both her first and second husbands. She and her son had both been conspicuous figures in the gay night life of Paris.

SEVERAL AMERICANS REPORTED KILLED AND

DIPLOMATIC ROWS WITH FOREIGN COUNTRIES NOW FACE AMERICA

Volstead Law Again Root of Trouble Following Plan of Searching Foreign Ships for Contraband Liquor —Protests Are Received.

Washington, July 8.—Diplomatic rows with foreign governments were in the offing today and the Volstead law is again the root of the trouble. State department officials may be besieged with envoys of protesting foreign powers, incensed because the United States may seize and search their ships for contraband liquor.

Fully conscious of the dangers involved, treasury officials today went ahead preparing regulations which may fall like a bombshell upon foreign ears. Foreign ships having liquors aboard and entering American territorial waters, run the risk of seizure by U. S. government agents.

Attorney General Daugherty said today that no course was left open to him but to interpret the Volstead law, as it stands and this statute clearly forbids liquor laden ships entering American ports en route to other foreign destinations, even for coaling purposes.

The British government, it was understood today will be the first of the principal powers to challenge the right of the American government to trespass upon the privileges set up in time honored commercial treaties and other agreements of comity and good will, governing reciprocal courtesies.

The effect of wholesale seizures of foreign ships which invariably carry heavy cargoes of whiskey and wines, can scarcely be foreseen. It is a situation full of dangerous possibilities.

IRISH LEADERS TO DRAFT NOTE
STATING WANTS

Second Conference of Sinn
Fein and Unionists Starts.

Dublin, July 8.—When the second conference of the Sinn Fein and Unionists began here today it was reported that a formal letter to Premier Lloyd George would be drafted dealing with Irish peace.

Eamonn DeValera entered the conference insisting upon certain specific guarantees which it is understood the southern unionists knew all about in advance. The fact that the unionists had foreknowledge of the Sinn Fein demands simplified discussions.

Belief was expressed in responsible circles that the conference today would create another milestone in the "march to peace" and that the meeting would weld closer the relations of the republicans and unionist factions, in the south at least.

Before the meeting was convened DeValera and Arthur Griffith conferred together.

Sinn Feiners and unionists alike were cheered by thousands as they arrived at the city hall where the meeting was held. There was much noise and flag waving in the streets.

Countries Now Is Apparent.

London, July 8.—Premier Lloyd George, in his promised statement in the house of commons on Monday upon the Anglo-Japanese treaty, will tell of the need of unity among nations interested in the pacific and will foreshadow an early international conference to which the United States and Japan will be invited, according to forecasts in the press today.

The Daily Mail, in commenting upon the premier's statement yesterday that he would postpone his Anglo-Japanese statement until Monday said the delay would be welcomed as it would give more time for consultations.

The diplomatic correspondent of the Chronicle says that the dominion premier's regard the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty as a step which would not prejudice negotiations for a conference dealing with Pacific ocean questions.

EXECUTION STAYED AT LAST MOMENT

Wheeling, W. Va., July 9.—Less than one hour before the time set for Hobart (Pittsburgh) Grimm to pay the death penalty on the gallows at the state penitentiary at Moundsville yesterday evening, Governor B. F. Morgan issued a stay of execution for thirty days.

The announcement from Governor Morgan that the state's executive had decided to grant Grimm a reprieve of thirty days, received at 3:30 o'clock but no information was given out for the purpose of obtaining a confession from Grimm, and the plan was successful Grimm after maintaining that he was innocent, until less than an hour before he was scheduled to have been hanged, finally made a partial confession.

KING GEORGE NOW
PLAYS IMPORTANT
PART TO AID PEACE

Great Series of Conferences
Will Begin Saturday.

London, July 8.—Further evidence of the important part that King George is playing in the attempt to restore Irish peace was given today when Sir James Craig premier of Ulster, was received in audience by the king at Buckingham Palace. It is understood that the proposed settlement, as it affects Ulster was discussed.

A great series of conferences on the Irish situation will begin tomorrow at Chequers, the country estate of Premier Lloyd George and will continue until Sunday night.

All the dominion premiers were invited to meet Premier Lloyd George tomorrow.

It was reported that there is some dissatisfaction in government circles that Gen. Smuts visited Dublin to confer with Eamonn DeValera and other Sinn Fein officials.

CHICAGO AFFORDED
TEMPORARY RELIEF

Chicago, July 8.—The heat wave which has prevailed in Chicago for more than two weeks returned today after a temporary break caused by a severe electrical storm last night. Indications were that the mercury would again mount to levels that have been customary since June 18.

The storm which swept Chicago and vicinity last night came suddenly and afforded welcome relief. The temperature dropped from 95 degrees where it stood at 5 o'clock to 71 degrees.

Torrential rains accompanied the lightning and thunder and basements and sewers were flooded. Several buildings were damaged by lightning. Nearly two inches of rain fell within two hours.

HEAT OF SUMMER

"Mrs. Kaber told me her husband was terrible to her and when I asked why she did not get a divorce she said: 'You don't think I want to lose all his money, do you?'"

"Then she said: 'There's a way I can fix it without losing any of the money.'"

The accused woman sitting in a listless attitude with her chin resting on her hand did not raise her eyes

BULLETIN

Washington, July 8.—The state department today had no advices from Mexico City or Tampico concerning an outbreak of violence at the latter place in which several Americans were reported to have been killed or injured.

Mexico City July 8.—Several Americans are reported to have been killed and wounded in an outbreak of violence at Tampico. This was the first disorder in the Tampico district since some of the big oil companies closed down in protest against increased petroleum taxes throwing thousands of laborers out of work.

SAYS NOTHING ABNORMAL

New York, July 8.—In response to an inquiry as to the real state of affairs at Tampico as viewed through the eyes of Mexican officials, President Obregon sent the following telegram to the international News Service today from Mexico City:

"There is nothing abnormal in the Tampico situation with the exception that some of the oil companies have suspended operations while others are working more intensively.

creased petroleum taxes throwing thousands of laborers out of work. Thursday night at Zacamixtle where a number of discharged laborers are concentrated. The men demanded three months' pay, which they claimed was due them under the Mexican law, and also railway fare to leave the oil fields.

Only meager reports have been received here this morning but it was rumored that a number of men were killed and wounded, including some Americans.

Tampico was said to be greatly alarmed over the outbreak as it was feared others would follow.

Claude I. Dawson, the American consul at Tampico, sent a message to Mexico City saying that trouble had occurred but he did not give the details.

The government has sent troop reinforcements into the Tampico district. It is reported from Tampico that officials of the idle oil companies declare they will remain closed at least six months unless the petroleum export tax (which was increased July 1) is reduced.

Three Canadian war crafts have been at Salina Cruz for a week and it was pointed out today that their presence caused no comment although the arrival of one United States warship at Tampico has created great alarm.

RAIN IS FORECAST FOR FRIDAY NIGHT; MAY BRING RELIEF

With thundershowers in sight for Friday night, according to the prediction of the weatherman, some relief from the heat wave that has now lasted 23 days, gripping the entire state, is expected. The mercury which has hovered around the 95 degree mark for the past three weeks is due for a drop, temporarily at least, if the forecast of the weatherman proves correct. Xenia has sweltered and sizzled in the torrid spell along with other cities of the state, and while there have been no reported heat prostrations, it is thought that the weather has been partially responsible for several fatal illnesses lately.

Friday, partly cloudy, was slightly cooler than preceding days, and, while showers threatened at times all day, none had appeared until the middle of the afternoon. Unless rain comes in sufficient quantity before Sunday, the corn and gardens of the state are ruined according to word from Columbus, Friday.

Chicago reported heavy rains there Thursday night which afforded temporary relief from the heat. Rain has been general over some of the western states during the last few days. Saturday is to be fair, according to weather forecasts.

SELECT OFFICERS OF ASSOCIATION OF HOME EX-PUPILS

Frank Akers, of Chicago, was elected president of the Ex-Pupils Association of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan's Home, at the business session held, Thursday morning, the final day of the annual reunion. Dr. George H. Lampe of Cincinnati was named first vice president of the organization and Wilbur Hart of Dayton, second vice president. Miss Grace Shroades of Dayton, was elected recording secretary and A. W. Patterson of Chicago, corresponding secretary. The new executive committee is composed of E. H. Hughes of Columbus, Robert Odell of Columbus, J. T. Augustus, of Springfield, and Mrs. Nelle Smith Carmen, of Lancaster.

The reunion was one of the most enthusiastic held in recent years, according to Ike Thrasher, retiring resident. Although the registration was not as large as last year, when nearly five hundred were present at the reunion, those present were enthusiastic and much was accomplished. The business and industrial depression was blamed for the small attendance this year.

At the business session Thursday morning, the memorial building to be erected by the ex-pupils, occupied much of the discussion and was greeted enthusiastically. Solicitation among the members attending the meeting, resulted in a pledged subscription amounting to $1,500. The sum of the association is to raise $30,000 for the building fund and it is hoped that the cornerstone will be laid within another year.

The annual ball game between the Home Cadets and Ex-Pupils was played Thursday afternoon, and after the first running saw the rolling up of a large score, the score keepers forgot to keep count. Thursday night the annual ball wound up the events of the reunion. The ball was held at the open air pavilion, instead of in the armory, and the dancers wore gay paper caps, the spirit of reunion and carnival holding forth until a late hour.

SOCIETY

WEDDING SOLEMNIZED THURSDAY

The handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Milton McKay on West Market Street, was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings of the season when the marriage of Miss Ruth McKay, daughter of Mrs. O. F. McKay, of Delaware, Ohio, to Doctor Stanley Hewitt Haynes, prominent surgeon of Minneapolis, Minn., was solemnized in the presence of 22 relatives and close friends at six o'clock, Thursday evening.

Palms, ferns and other potted plants, were used to form the altar, which was placed in front of the fireplace in the living room of the McKay home, and were also used in the decorations of the other rooms. Large bouquets of yellow eyed daisies were used in profusion.

The bridal party was met at the altar by the officiating clergyman, the Rev. Dr. V. F. Brown, of Trinity Church. Upon the entrance of the bride, Miss Elizabeth Hornard of Delaware, a cousin of the bride, at the piano, played the wedding march from Lohengrin.

FOUR CANDIDATES FOR CITY COMMISSION NOW IN FIELD AND POSSIBILITY OF FIFTH RUMORED; FILE PETITIONS FRIDAY

That four petitions and possibly a fifth, would be filed for candidates for city commission with Paul H. Cresswell, clerk of the board of election, before Saturday, was assured Friday afternoon.

The petitions being circulated for the Citizens' Committee candidates Judge H. L. Smith, George E. Hudson and Judge M. J. Hartley, had obtained the required number of signers before Thursday night, and more names were added to the list during Friday.

The possibility of a technicality in the proper time for filing the petitions holding up the candidacies is causing the filing of the petitions, Friday, it is said.

Detours will be necessary in some places to avoid the tarvia or asphalt but county engineers say the resurfacing will not prove annoying for more than two or three days, and that travel may be resumed Sunday without trouble.

The latest announcement regards five miles of the Wilmington pike, from the Caesar Creek bridge to the county line, resurfaced with tarvia.

On the Dayton pike, there is about a mile and a half of tarvia top from the corporation line to the top of Lucas Hill, and from Alpha to Zimmerman, a distance of two and three quarter miles, asphalt or "hot oil" has been applied.

Motorists seem willing to stand the inconvenience for a few days in anticipation of the advantages to be secured by the resurfacing, as the tarvia or asphalt makes a water-proof top, that binds the road, prevents it from tearing up quickly and keeps down dust.

One of the most enjoyable and novel picnics of the season, was that enjoyed by twelve children of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelble, of Second Street, Thursday, when the family chaperoned by the two older children, Miss Katherine and Mr. Gerald Kelble, spent the day at Kil Kare Park...

Only one member of the family was absent, Baby Patricia, who was forced to stay at home on account of not having reached the age when picnics are the most enjoyable.

With these three candidates in the field it was announced, Friday, that Azel E. Kildow, of North West street expect to file his petition of candidacy also Friday afternoon or evening.

"I represent no political faction nor any organization at all," said Mr. Kildow when asked if he would run independently.

A rumor that Dr. H. R. Hawkins is an avowed candidate for the city commission as a representative of the colored citizens, was denied by Dr. Hawkins himself Friday afternoon.

Dr. Hawkins said that he understood that one or two petitions in favor of his candidacy were being circulated, but that he had not authorized their circulation, had not given anyone permission to use his name and knew nothing of the origin of the petitions.

When asked if he would accept the nomination if the petitions obtained the proper number of names and were filed, he said he did not know what course he would follow, as he had never considered the matter of running for office and had never announced himself as a candidate.

The rumor that he would come before the public, not absolutely denied by Dr. Hawkins persisted in downtown circles.

Henry L. Binder, whose name has been mentioned as a possible candidate, will not run for the office, it is believed. Mr. Binder has been at Russell's Point since Tuesday, where he will remain for ten days on an outing, and it is not thought that he has been considering the circulation of a petition in his own behalf, or that his friends are intending to put forward his candidacy.

It was the opinion of politicians Friday, that although Mr. Binder might have agreed to become a candidate if his candidacy was sought

RAIN IS FORECAST FOR FRIDAY NIGHT MAY BRING REL

Editorial

With thundershowers in sight for Friday night, according to the forecast of the weatherman, some relief from the heat wave that has now been gripping the entire country is expected. The mercury will probably be down around the 85 degree mark for the past three weeks is not too much to expect, at least, if the forecast of the weatherman proves correct. Xenia has sweated and suffered the torrid spell along with the cities of the state, and while there have been no reported heat deaths, it is thought that the heat has been partially responsible for several fatal illnesses lately.

Friday, partly cloudy, was cooler than preceding day, while showers threatened at day, none had appeared up middle of the afternoon. Unseasonable in sufficient quantity Sunday, the corn and garden state are ruined according to reports from Columbus, Friday.

Chicago reported heavy rain Thursday night which afforded temporary relief from the heat. A general over some of the northern states during the last few days is to be fair, according to weather forecasts.

ELECT OFFICERS OF AS OF HON

Frank Aker, elected president of the organization of the Ohio Teachers' Association, held his session here on Friday. The final day of the convention was named for the organization of the Ohio Teachers' Association, held in Dayton, Ohio, last week. The association is composed of teachers from all over the state. The convention is held annually to discuss the needs of the teaching profession and to elect officers for the coming year. The association is a non-profit organization and its primary purpose is to improve the conditions of the teaching profession. The convention is a great success and the officers elected for the coming year are well qualified to carry on the work of the association.

TEACHING NOW MORE POPULAR AND MANY SEEK POSITIONS.

Teaching is again becoming popular. Reports from all parts of the state show that many young people are turning to teaching as a career. This is a very good thing, as teaching is a noble profession and one that is always in demand. The reason for this increase in popularity is due to the fact that teaching is a stable career and one that offers many opportunities for advancement. Many young people are also attracted to teaching because it is a profession that allows them to make a difference in the lives of others. The teaching profession is a very important one and it is good to see so many young people entering it.

and although it is not expected nor will take those graduates who care more for teaching than for money. The reason for this is that teaching is a profession that requires a great deal of dedication and hard work. Those who enter the teaching profession must be prepared to face many challenges and to work long hours. However, for those who are truly dedicated to the profession, the rewards are great.

and girls in forty-two colleges were questioned and 1,400 said they were planning to teach. Of these, 1,012 high school seniors in Ohio, 713 expect to teach, not teach, while 140 are undecided. The reason given for not teaching was, in most cases, the small salaries paid to teachers.

"I always thought if the doctors couldn't help my stomach and liver trouble, nobody else could. It has cost me nine hundred dollars and I have paid my fine. It remained for May's Wonderful Remedy to do the trick. I have been in the best of health since taking it more than a year ago." It is simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. POPULARITY.

I have a lot of ardent friends who greet me every day, and genuine affection lends much warmth to things they say. They meet me on the beaten track whenever I go out, and clap me on the back, and call me Good Old Scout. For I have never made a race for office, large or small; I've never promised, with my face, to make the taxes fall; I've never cried that I would save the voters' picayunes, or volunteered to fill a grave to save our Precious Boons. I've never pledged myself to ease the burdens that men bear, or handed out the cheesy wheeze where statesmen paw the air. I sit beneath my tree and vine and pen my rigmorales; I've never asked a friend of mine to help me at the polls. So there is nothing that abates the love men have for me; for they are tired of candidates and talk of Liberty. Our Sacred Bulwarks sometimes seem a topic rather vain, and men require some other theme to keep them sane. And when they see me lead my goat along the village street, they know I will not ask a vote from any gent I meet. "It is a comfort," people cry, "that there's one man in town who never has the wish to try to hold an office down." They look on me with loving lamps, with lamps that shine like stars, and borrow two-cent postage stamps, and touch me for cigars.

BEAUTY CHATS

EDNA KENT FORBES

Letters frequently come to me from young girls who want to know what make-up is and how it can be used, and how much is permissible. I suppose the strict moralist would say that I should condemn the use of all make-up. And yet I can't quite do that because there are times when just a little artificial color in the cheeks makes such a difference in one's personal appearance, and in the feeling about oneself, that surely no one could call it wicked.

Make-up is more than using rouge, of course. Though rouge may be an occasional necessity, the rest of these make-up articles is quite superfluous. I believe in tinting the cheeks a wee bit when one is ill or tired, and when the color takes away from the ghastly effect of a dead white face. Beyond that is a question not so much of morals, as of good taste.

But there are girls who are determined to use make-up. That being the case, I would much prefer to tell them how so that they can produce as good an effect as possible.

If you are going to use make-up, buy the best that you can afford. If you make up the eyes, touch only the hairs of the eyebrows and the lashes with the eyebrow pencil; never let the color touch the skin. If you are brown use a brown pencil; if brunette a black one. Use light rouge if you are blonde, dark rouge if brunette, and use the compact powder made only from vegetable coloring, as this is least trying to the skin. First then apply a little rouge, spread it lightly with the fingers and powder over it again. This makes the color seem part of the skin rather than laid on. Follow the actual shape of the lips with the lipstick—never try to reshape your mouth.

H. B. & A. Jay.—To reduce the chin and jaw line, be on your back, holding your arms stiffly by the sides of the body, then slowly raise your head on a sitting position but without bending your knees or allowing the feet to rise from the floor; then sink back to the position. Repeat several times.

Retain this position on the floor with the legs straight in front of you, and stiffened place the heels together and arms down, hands touching the floor. Then, resting on the palms of the hands and throwing your weight upon them, raise yourself up in a slanting position, heels on the floor, palms on the floor, legs and arms straight and stiff, and head inclining forward from the slanting position. Then lower yourself to the original position, and repeat.

Mrs. O. P. H.—Singe the ends of the hair once in six weeks, which should stop it from splitting. Your scalp needs special treatment to stop the hair from coming out. If you send a stamped envelope, I shall be pleased to mail you directions for this.

NOW FEELS LIKE 16 YEAR OLD BOY

John Sprain of Akron, Declares Everybody Should Know About Tanlac.

"Yes, sir, I feel as fine as I did when I was a sixteen year old boy," said John Sprain, of 165 W. North St., Akron, Ohio.

"My stomach was my main trouble and it bothered me day in and day out. Even at night I was often in misery and had to get out of bed and pace the floor. My appetite was practically gone and I could hardly sit down and face a meal. If I ate any supper I would suffer all night long and I reached the point where I actually dreaded to see meal time come. My liver was sluggish and I was all run down and never felt equal to my work."

"But Tanlac has brought me out and put me to feeling just like I have been wanting to feel. I don't believe I ever was in better health the best day of my life. My appetite is a wonder and nothing I eat ever bothers me at all. My liver is in good condition and nobody, I do believe sleeps any sounder than I do. Tanlac is one medicine that everybody should know about."

The Springfield Reds have plenty of class this season having won six straight games already. They boast of a well-balanced combination and are rated as one of the best high school aggregations that has appeared here for some time.

Heims will shoot them across the pan for St. Raphaels with Barringer behind the bat. The game will be called by Umpire Lawrence Rachford at three o'clock, daylight saving time.

EPWORTH LEAGUE OF MIAMI VALLEY PICKS MEETING DATE

The week of August 15 to 21, has been chosen as the time for the second annual session of the Miami Valley Epworth League Institute. So admirable were the institutes at the Miami Valley Chautauqua Grounds, at Franklin, Ohio, last year, that the same place, has been selected for the coming session and will it is thought become the permanent home of the Institute, according to advices received in Xenia.

Members of the local Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church, are planning to attend the session.

A faculty of well known instructors in Epworth League work, has been secured and a strong program of evening entertainment has been arranged. These features combined with the facilities for boating, bathing, fishing, tennis, camp life, and congenial association, provide an ideal opportunity for an enjoyable and inexpensive vacation, local members said.

The Miami Valley Chautauqua Grounds, where the Institute will be held are located two miles north of Franklin, Ohio, on the Miami river, and can be reached from Dayton, or Cincinnati on the Dayton and Cincinnati Traction line.

Early in the spring it was announced that a Chapter registration fee of five dollars would be accepted, entitling the chapter who paid it to send any number of delegates. In response to this announcement the Institute Commission received advice from several sources, suggesting that an institute as young as Miami Valley should remain on the previous year's financial basis, and it has been decided to use the old system.

A program of the day's events at the Institute and further announcements will be made later.

Representatives from this city, present at the meeting were George Stiles and Frank Hurly of the Stiles Coal Company and L. D. Wilson of the Wilson Engineering and Contracting Company.

Efficient Housekeeping

I have recently written upon the wisdom of serving more salad-meals in hot weather to save the house-keeper from having to bend over her stove (to say nothing of the benefit her family will derive from eating enough cooling and delicious fruits, vegetables, and lettuce in this way.)

Now I wish to say a few words about easily-made desserts for warm days. The following dinner menus contain such desserts:

Chops

Potato-Onion Salad

Wholewheat Bread

Coffee

Grapejuice Cup

Grapejuice Cup—(It will pay the housekeeper to buy a bottle of grapejuice and keep it in her refrigerator to serve especially with this dessert which will be a favorite with the family.)

Slice ice-cold bananas thinly into small glass lemonade cups and add either diced grapefruit, oranges or pineapple. Pour the cold grapejuice over all and serve. There is "brace" in this dessert when served on a hot evening at dinner.

Beef Loaf

Baked Potatoes Asparagus

Wholewheat Bread

Iced Coffee

Pineapple with Custard Sauce—Place a slice of either fresh or canned pineapple on individual dessert plates and pour over each slice a custard sauce made as described below.

Soft boiled custard may be made in a large quantity and kept in a jar in the refrigerator, to use on successive days with different fruit combinations. This will enable the house-keeper to get up attractive desserts in a few minutes and the custard will be deliciously cold when needed. To make a large quantity, scald 1 quart of milk in the top of a double boiler. Beat 4 eggs and add to them 1-4 teaspoonful of salt and 4 tablespoonfuls of sugar. Add enough water to 1 teaspoon of cornstarch to make a thin mixture and stir this into the scalding milk, let cook for 3 minutes, stirring all the time, then pour some of the hot milk over the eggs, mix and turn the eggs into the double boiler containing the rest of the milk. Cook until the custard coats the spoon then remove it from the fire quickly; add 1 teaspoonful of vanilla and strain into a bowl to cool. When cool, put it into empty milk bottles, cork with the round paper disc that comes over the milk and keep in the ice chest till needed.

On one day a little of this custard may be poured over berries; on another day, over sliced peaches; on another day, over cold rice which was sweetened before it became solid and may now be cut into small cubes and served as a dessert—a most nourishing dessert for the children. Or the whites of two eggs, beaten stiff and sweetened with two tablespoonfuls of sugar, may be dropped by spoonfuls on some of this cold custard in a baking dish and the dish then slipped into the oven so that these little "floating islands" may brown delicately.

Let us plan for the warm weather still ahead of us, by serving such easily-made desserts as these. Our families will like them just as well as desserts which would take us longer to prepare—and we can serve our dear ones better in other ways if we are careful not to overdo in our kitchens.

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

By JANE PHELPS.

VERA ARRIVES IN BOSTON Chapter 87

All this planning of mine seems now, as I look back upon what happened that day, as almost melodramatic. But as Keith had chosen Margaret in preference to me I did not intend to be traced, then brought back like a runaway child. I was leaving for good.

I drove immediately to the station, dismissed my cab, waited a few moments, then bought my ticket, checked the trunk, took another taxi and went to the bank.

I had hoped to pass unnoticed, but the cashier to whom Keith had talked the day we deposited my money was on duty and recognized me.

"You wish to draw it all out, Mrs. Sanderson?" he asked after I stated my errand.

"Yes, I wish to invest it." I used the term Keith had used when he talked of my money.

"In that case I will say nothing, although we dislike to lose you as a depositor," he returned politely.

I took the money, most of it in large bills and left the bank. At the station I went into the ladies room and put it in a pocket I had, that morning, added to the dress I wore.

I knew Keith would think I had gone home, but that I had no intention of doing. I very much doubted if my people would think because my husband loved his sister almost insanely—that he deferred to her wishes instead of to mine—it was sufficient reason for leaving him. I felt, too, that I could not answer their questions, make explanations. I wanted to be alone, away from everyone I knew or ever had known. I felt disgraced. I was a discarded wife, thrown away like an old glove. I had given my husband a chance to keep me with him; he refused to take it.

So as he would think I had gone West, I would go in the opposite direction. I would go to Boston, then to some small nearby town until I was sure I would not be traced. I would rest, then find work. I was not quite foolish enough, although I knew so little of business to think that $5,000 would last forever.

I had worn a veil, and kept it down all the way. My thoughts ran riot from Keith to Margaret, home to my own people, to Erma, the only real young woman friend I had made since my marriage, to Gloria and Irene. Finally they jerked back to Keith. He did not yet know I had gone. I would be almost to Boston when Margaret reached home, and he would dine at the club. I should be at the end of my journey before he learned I was missing.

I had coached Annie as to what she was to say if Margaret questioned her. Simply that I had gone out without saying when I would return. To my husband she was to tell the truth. She had called a cab. I had sent her to the kitchen and attended to my own luggage. I had left a letter for Keith. He would find it on his desk.

I visualized Margaret saying:

"We won't wait dinner, James. Serve it at once." They never did wait for me. I was not of enough importance in that house. I then saw her as she would look when Keith told her I had not come in, and question her as to where I had gone and if I had left word for him. Such thoughts helped me not to cry. And that was what I wanted to do more than anything in the world. But as always when I thought of Margaret it steeled me against Keith.

I dared not think of him as he would look when he talked to Annie. I only saw Margaret's face when she knew I had gone, the glad look on it. I would not think of Keith, of how he would look and act when he had read the letter I had left for him. It would be very late, midnight anyway by the time he found that.

Then suddenly the thought came—unless Margaret was up to tell him I was out he would not know I had gone until morning. He would sleep in the spare room as he had the night before, and so would not find the letter.

Then with a crunching and grinding of wheels the train stopped. We were in the station.

I hurried out from the train, and asked the station matron to direct me to a small hotel for the night. She did so, and I hurried away. I was fearful some of Keith's business acquaintances might see and recognize me. I knew business men traveled a great deal.

The hotel to which the matron directed me was small but clean. I went at once to my room after registering as Mrs. Brown, giving a small town in Pennsylvania as my address. I ordered dinner sent to my room, although I had to compel myself to eat. Then I faced the long evening alone, the first of those to follow.

I longed to weep, to cry out my loneliness, my despair at the sure proof I had that Keith did not love me.

That short sentence he had hurled at me rang in my ears. Over and over I had heard his voice telling me to go. I had gone, and he would not care, would not even miss me long, because he did not love me.

Not once since I had told him to choose between me and Margaret had anything but what he had said occurred to me as a reason for my act. Other things were to come later, distressing thoughts.
